

In a fast-paced environment, the ability to constantly learn and adjust in an ambiguous world needs to be a fundamental principle of any organization. With over 50 years of development experience, the United Nations Development Programme is re-inventing itself to adapt to emerging challenges and opportunities, improve our business model and the way we work. In Sri Lanka, UNDP has been working as a key development partner since 1967, to achieve sustainable human development in economic, social and environmental fronts. To support national development, we are looking for individuals who are driven and passionate to join our dynamic team.

For this purpose, UNDP is seeking to recruit a dynamic and well accomplished “Programme Quality & Design Analyst” to play a key role in the Sri Lankan Country Office.

Career Opportunities

Programme Quality & Design Analyst (NOB)

Key Responsibilities

- Focuses on the quality assurance of programme activities, such as providing support with quality assurance to the delivery of UNDP programmes, advisory services, and knowledge sharing activities, as well as contributing to the design of development solutions, across all areas of UNDP programming and advisory services.
- Generates analytics and reviews that determine quality standards and identifying potential trouble areas and suggesting remedial solutions, the PQ/D Analyst is the necessary partner function to programme innovation.
- Systematically reviews new approaches for viability, act as a sounding board for both technical rigor and performance standards and promote quality as a mindset, not just a result.
- Contributes to development of new methods and analytics aligned to and in support of new programme directions and approaches together with the SMEs.
- Identifies client technical capacities and needs, and summarizes for team to adapt outputs and approaches.

Key Requirements

- Master’s degree in social policy, public policy, politics, economics, development studies or a related area with 2 years’ experience.
Or
Bachelor’s degree in social policy, public policy, politics, economics, development studies or a related area with 4 years’ experience.
- Experience in programme management, work with quality assurance instruments and results based management models in an international development context.
- Strong oral and written communication skills in English, along with Sinhala and/or Tamil.

To express an interest for this position please forward your CV along with contact details of two non-related referees before the 27th of November 2017 to hrsadvisory@lk.pwc.com. Please mention the position applied for in the subject line of the email.

For additional clarification or concerns please contact:
Kanishka Weeratunga on +94-11-7719700 | ext 5404 | kanishka.weeratunga@lk.pwc.com.

Note: UNDP staff will be placed on a one year service contracts with the possibility of extension.

Lasanga Abeysuriya | Executive Director
Human Resource Consultancy Services